

SARAH TYLER-WALTERS TRANCE MEDIUM

Frequently asked questions

About a trance consultation

1. Do you remember what Master Chou said?

On occasion, I do remember bits and pieces of the conversation. However, these are usually out of context and forgotten within days of the trance consultation. Often this includes the client's face, which can be pretty embarrassing should I meet them again. Sometimes, Spirit needs me to remember a key fact or point to pass on additional information to the sitter, such as a recommendation of a healer or therapist.

2. Can I ask about someone else?

Yes. However, the answer will depend on the nature of the question and whether or not answering it would breach their free will. Moreover, the answer may not be available as the future can change.

3. I am nervous; what if I do not like it?

At the beginning of a trance consultation, Sarah will explain in detail what will happen regarding her appearance and how Master Chou works. She will explain that he will scan your aura and then ask what you want to discuss. Sarah advises everyone that if they become uncomfortable, all they have to do is ask that the session stop and she will come back from the trance state.

4. I saw you a few months ago; when can I have another session?

Unlike seeing a clairvoyant or psychic reading, you can come for trance consultations more often. The principle to understand is that a session is about helping you with issues/situations in your life and understanding them. Clients often do have more than one session. Ask yourself whether you have more questions; if yes, book an appointment; if no, you do not need one.

5. Can Master Chou give medical advice?

Master Chou is not a medical doctor. He will always advise you to seek medical advice and follow any recommended treatment. He may discuss with you any emotional or spiritual issues surrounding the illness and offer guidance on optimising your well-being to assist in the healing process.

6. Can Master Chou tell me if my medical treatment will work?

Sadly, this is not in the remit of Spirit; he may be available to indicate the direction of the treatment and your response, but not a guaranteed outcome. More than likely, he would discuss with you the reasons behind your getting ill, along with any blocks or issues you may have regarding the illness or treatment.

7. Will my loved one speak to me, or can your guide talk to them?

Your loved one speaking to you through a trance medium is quite rare. Sadly, this is not something that occurs during Sarah's trance work. Whether Master Chou can talk to them, the answer is no. Occasionally, a client's Spirit Guide might relay a message to Master Chou, but this is not the purpose of the session. Should a client seek communication with a loved one, Sarah would refer them to a mental medium (clairvoyant).

8. Will he tell me about my future?

No! It is not for Spirit to tell you your future; it is for you to make it. Even if Master Chou were to talk about future events, the fact that you knew about them could and probably would alter the event, rendering the information useless. He can discuss future direction, but not time and dates for things to occur. Clients also often seek guarantees. Those are in your hands, not Spirit's.

9. What do I need to do for a trance consultation?

All Sarah needs is that you attend with topics/questions to discuss and an open mind; writing them down is very helpful. Master Chou carefully ensures you understand the information he is giving before going on to the next question.
