

SARAH TYLER-WALTERS TRANCE MEDIUM

What to Expect During a Trance Lecture

First and foremost, it's important to understand that I am the one in a trance, not the audience! I was once asked if the audience needed to enter a trance as well. I wondered if that question hinted at a concern that the lecture might be boring and put everyone to sleep.

A trance lecture is an address delivered by Spirit through a trance medium. You might be wondering if this is simply a demonstration. However, the content of a lecture is quite different. Spirit will speak about a subject in a structured manner from beginning to end.

Typically, these lectures guide the audience through the topic, offering practical steps and a broader perspective. Spirit usually speaks for about 70 to 90 minutes, occasionally checking in with the audience to ensure everyone is following along. If time permits, there may be a few questions at the end.

Spirit carefully selects the topics or issues to provide insights and a spiritual perspective—essentially offering the "big picture." They consider the content thoughtfully, choosing their words in a way that audiences can easily understand. Often, philosophy is perceived as overly complex or suited only for intellectuals, but Spirit aims to avoid that. They ensure that their message is accessible, allowing listeners to absorb what they need and planting seeds for future reflection.

Master Chou's lectures often focus on the inner life, encompassing mental, physical, and emotional well-being. He speaks with a genuine understanding of human experience, incorporating humour and practical advice into his talks. The Oracle tends to address broader subjects that impact humanity as a whole, leading to deeply thought-provoking discussions.

Sarah does not always know in advance who will deliver the lecture; that decision is made between Master Chou and The Oracle. Importantly, each specific lecture is delivered only once. To capture their wisdom, Sarah records the audio, and these recordings are later made available for purchase. You can also find recordings of previous lectures available for purchase in my shop on my website.

Last updated September 2025